

Keep NYC Free

www.keepnycfree.com

Thursday, August 18, 2011

Contact: Corey Bearak
(718) 343-6779/ cell: (516) 343-6207

Nothin' To Hide

Maybe. Maybe Not. See today's Daily News editorial.
The dismissal of lawsuit on procedural grounds avoids judicial review of the merits of a controversial bike lane on Prospect Park West. The justice's decision, however, opens the door by injecting a little sunshine behind some closed doors.

It brings to mind these lyrics Rock and Roll hall of famer (With the Eagles) Randy Meisner sang with Poco some two decades after leaving the band that spawned the L.A.
rock genre:

*The look in your eyes ain't the same anymore
Somethin' has changed deep inside
We both know it's right, what are we waitin' for?
There's no holdin' back
'Cause with you I've got nothin' to hide*

Disclosing the real records might just make public discussions of scheming the project and justify the lawsuit.

Transportation Commish Janette Sadik- Khan's highhanded ways displayed in Brooklyn bike-lane suit

EDITORIALS

Thursday, August 18th 2011, 4:00 AM

Transportation Commissioner Janette Sadik-Khan is crowing that a judge dismissed a lawsuit against the world's most (in) famous bike lane, the one that runs along the side of Brooklyn's Prospect Park.

Read the full editorial.